President Truman was on the air for two minutes in his Edmonton North Atlantic Pact speech before anybody heard him. The President started speaking two full minutes before his address was officially timed to start but through a mixup he was led to the microphone at 4:28 instead of 4:30 p.m.

Politics

Two-lead Green Drive has traced a fuse about Canada's failure to help in the Berlin airlift. The Progressive-Conservative leader said Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are participating. RCAF planes laid in Berlin when no tanks in therefore to excuse for raising the issue of treaty violations on the part of the Canadian government, he said.

The federal government should prepare telegrams, especially those to the members of Parliament. That was the complaint voiced in the Commons by John Gurney (CCF-Regina City). Gurney said he had received a large number of telegrams from Ottawa all marked cancel.

The Press

Press freedom measures drawn up for the United Nations Assembly at Geneva last night may be postponed, Sir Lloyd Dumas, Australian newspaper publisher, says there may be "possible dangers" in freedom of the press. He said the draft conventions on communications proposed, Sir Lloyd said proposals might actually impose serious restrictions, rather than under freedom, on the press.

OTTAWA, April 5.—(CP)—The Commons was told last night that the government plans to keep secret the exact strength of the armed forces because of the value of this information might have to the Russians.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, in a spirited attack against the secrecy surrounding the present defence establishment, said he would like to be given all possible information so that it could be recommended for or against.

Defence Minister Claxton said that as long as he is minister the strength of the forces will not be made public.

RUSSIA ONLY ADDRESSOR

He made this statement after saying that Russia was the only possible aggressor against the country.

"The only possibility that is envisaged by the government and by its advisers at this time concerning an attack on Canada is what is called a diversionary raid—not a knock-out blow, but something designed to attract attention and to create local tension, and to force by pressure of public opinion to put much more into static defence."

"If this is the only possibility, I suggest that it is at the present time, should it be changed, then what could the only possible reason be to know more than the kind of force he might have to divert from his major military activities to make his diversionary raid?"

The argument developed during the study of supplementary estimates of the defence department for the 1949-50 fiscal year, which ended March 23.

FISH MAJOR TOPIC

Fisheries minister Mayhew, with details, told the commons.

"There is every reason to hope that something will be done" to allow the British Columbia canned salmon industry to sell a "good product" of its surplus in Britain in the spring.

He told Howard Green (PC-Vancouver South) that negotiations have been going on with British Columbia and that three departments of the federal government—fisheries, trade and finance, are involved in the matter.

Green had warned that the industry's market situation was such that a "disaster" could result.

The discussion of fish of numerous varieties as well as shell products accompanied the chamberlain's report of the afternoon session and saw numerous B.C. and maritime members take part.

Why the Maple Leaf?

The old agitation for a distinctive Canadian flag has boiled up again with the probability of a general election this year.

It is difficult to understand why the Union Jack is not sufficiently significant as a banner emblem for Canada, or, at least, the Union Jack in company with some other device to indicate Canada more especially.

Two generations of Canadians have fought and died under the Union Jack and it appears strange that it should be necessary to improve upon a standard that has had such a baptism.

However, there is a strong tendency in this country to evolve some new heraldic device to lend point to Canada's sovereignty.

Most of the designs favored centre about a drawing of a maple leaf.

Actually there is no emblem less typical of all Canada.

It is true that in the East the maple develops into a handsome and majestic tree, useful and kindly. It is understandable, therefore, that the early settlers of Canada in the days when Canada consisted of Ontario and Quebec, should favor the maple leaf as a device symbolic of the country.

But the maple does not flourish in the prairie provinces.

In British Columbia it develops into a lush monstrous tree with fat, oversize leaves and crowded branches.

Therefore, the maple leaf properly represents nothing but the eastern portions of Canada.

It seems odd, then, that some Canadian should be anxious to jettison the Union Jack, which does mean something in every section of the country, and substitute the leaf of a tree that grows in only part of the country.

If Canadians wish to thump up something to get excited about in the coming election they had better find a device of more practical value and fewer geographical and racial absurdities.

spread is added, the true amount paid as a result of taxation by the consumer will not be far from the amount he is paying.

The difference will be that the consumer will not know that he is paying a tax.

Mr. Abbott was so frank about this as to be cynical.

He admitted that this idea of collecting taxes without the consumer knowing he is paying is a popular one, and he has adopted it for that reason.

He said, quite frankly, that the people of a democracy would only pay so much in the way of income tax, which they see, so that any more money which the Government needs to collect in taxation must be taken in such a way that the taxpayer will not know that he is paying it.

When the tax is imposed at the manufacturer's level, it never shows on the price ticket. The consumer buys the goods without any way of knowing how much tax he is paying.

Of course, the present fluctuations of market prices of goods subject to luxury tax should show what tax has happened.

Where, a few days ago, the goods were purchased with a tax of 25 per cent on them, now the goods are being sold, for the moment, without this tax.

Within a short time, however, the retailer will have to buy more goods to replace those which he has sold, and he will have to pay the manufacturer 10 per cent tax on his new stock so that after the usual

Mr. Simpson Might Have Waited

A small jeweller in Pembroke, Ontario, who, with his wife, committed suicide not long ago, because he felt that it was improper of the Government to force him to collect the luxury tax on his sales, was out paying him for doing so, got himself into trouble and was convicted and fined.

He may not go down in history as another John Hadden, or one of the many great figures in history who have started revolutions, by protesting in vain against something of which they disapproved.

Yet, Mr. Simpson has been justified, for by no less an authority than Mr. Abbott, who has just undertaken to revise the whole system of luxury taxes, so that they will be collected at the manufacturers' level, instead of by the retailer.

This is a very popular idea with the consuming public, who look at the price ticket with and without tax and note how much the tax costs them.

No Street Foliage, Please

Council will establish four-foot centre stripe on Jasper and Whyte avenues and the only point at issue, whether these stripes will be black-topped or planted with grass, shrubs or flower beds.

If the city wants to keep its main streets ridiculous and untidy looking, the authorities will bedeck them with foliage.

If the city wants to make them look respectable, the authorities will pave them smoothly.

Every avenue the car tracks were dug up on these avenues, they have been unsightly with rough mounds of raw earth.

It is probable that any consideration of that sort is going to be set aside by ministers of finance, in favor of the much simpler plan of taxing the people so that they will not know that they are paying, and not therefore vote against the government of the day.

Edmonton. The unemployment is rearing its ugly head again. It is very unfair that women should be asked to employ married women both full and part time, in preference to single women and widows.

This is a throwing a heavy load on the backs of the women who are unemployed, and in some cases, to mention marriage.

I know of one case where a woman who has been married for many years has been asked to employ her husband.

How much does the CBC pay Mr. Flack for his work? I think it is a fair question.

Does he do anything but print pieces of news in his column for the benefit of the CBC?

With numerous programs. One particular station that incidentally I do not listen to as much as some of the others, sponsors many local talent shows both throughout the week and on Sunday nights.

This station has not been mentioned at the radio column, for months is this fair reporting?

The CBC, with its large budget and network monopoly, should have to trouble in putting on good shows. This particular station is doing a good job with very little talent with a very low budget.

I do not believe in favoritism toward any particular station, but I think credit is due Mr. Flack for the way he has run the CBC.

Let's have a fairer representation in the radio column.

"I trust them more than I'd trust myself"

THE BANK's the place for my money. I always put part of my pay into my bank account—otherwise it burns a hole in my pocket. I guess I trust the bank more than I trust myself. I figure that's one reason why my savings have been building up the way they have.

Another reason I'm sold on a bank account is that I always know just where I stand. All I have to do is take a look at my pass-book. They're a lot better bookkeepers than I am.

What's more, what's in my pass-book is my business, and I can count on the bank people to keep their mouths shut about it. And that suits me just fine!

Going to your bank is not like having to deal with a state bureau—but that's how it would be under state monopoly.

MOHER ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Sports Editor
Video Gets Him In

You know how it is in this business. Bill Tobin is in town so you look him up. The usual pleasantries are given the once over. Then . . . to the inevitable question and answer session.

"What of television? Is he for or agin' it as it relates to hockey?"

"I'm afraid of it," he admits candidly. "Right now it's estimated that there are 100,000 television sets in the Chicago area. You can figure an average of three viewers to a set. Mind, our crowds don't seem to be affected as yet. But it costs a customer who buys one of our best seats ($4.30 tops) close to $10, counting extras and all, before he's through going to Hawk contest."

"Right now there are enough fans ready to put out like this. But who knows how long it will go on . . . especially if television keeps improving?"

"Yep, we'll be right on televising the games next season if someone wants to pay a bigger shot. But where we let out the rights for $300,000 this past season the figure will reach $100,000 next year."

"And that doesn't mean ninety-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine dollars. It means one hundred thousand . . . exactly."

No Need for 'Clean-Up' Campaign
Will hockey have to be 'cleaned up'? Is it too rough and tumble these times?

"I don't think so. After all we only had a couple of serious outbursts last season. There was that Ezinkin and Beardon incident . . . or was it Gardner and Beardon?"

"Then, of course, 'Red' Hamill of our team got into that fust. But Hamill draws very few penalties. He just lost his head for a moment."

"You know as well as I do that if the rule book was strictly enforced there'd be no Chicago."

"What of Bill Gadsby, former local junior?"

"Just a first season. Doesn't seem to take the game seriously enough yet. Course he's young. He can still come along."

"But then not many of the fellows seem to take things seriously these days. It beats me why players who won't spend any extra time trying to improve their hockey will practice golf shots after hour."

"Maybe things have been too easy for them," the Chicago brass would this one up.

Getting Fired "Greatest Break"
What of the move that took him out of the active ranks when he chucked it as goal-keeper for Edmonton Eskimos and headed for Chicago to get in on the promotional end of the game nearly a quarter of a century ago?

"Greatest break I ever got when McKenzie (Ken McKenzie, Eskimo owner) fired me. Chicago . . . hockey has been good to me."

And Joe Simpson, Bob Trapp, Spunk Sparrow and others of his old teammates.

"Joe's in Coral Gables, Florida. He's not doing so good. Recently had a bad heart attack. Sure he married a DuPont. But not one of THE DuPonts."

"Bob Trapp's around Kansas City. Haven't seen Sparrow since I left here, though I think he's all over Pennsylvania somewhere. Guess the others are all over the country."

And Clarence Campbell?

"Doing a fine job as president of the National Hockey League."

Where next?

"I expect to go back east about Wednesday. Wanta see the Stanley cup final. Think either Detroit or Canadiens to win it."

Winnipeggers Arrive To Battle Mortons

Winnipeg CJA's, who book up with Edmonton Mortons in the first of a two-game total-point western Canada senior ladies' basketball semi-final series here Wednesday night, will have some 'Peg' fans pulling for them.

But few will be pulling harder than manager Johnny Shaley, who was forced to stay in a Winnipeg hospital suffering from influenza. Shaley's shoes will be filled by John Kane, acting manager.

The Canadian Ukrainian Athletic club, which will depend on speed and smooth passing style of play that carried it to a season's record of 15 wins in 16 starts, arrived in Edmonton by rail early this morning.

Both games will be held off at the North West Ave. Community hall, the second to be played Thursday night. Starting time for both is 8:30 o'clock. City buses will leave the east-end of Kingsway every 20 minutes after 7

Buffs One Up After Lacing Canucks 5-0

CALGARY, April 5.—(CP)—The powerful Calgary Buffaloes took another step along the Memorial cup trail last night by blanking Moose Jaw Canucks 5-0 to take a 2-1 lead in games in their best-of-seven western semi-final series.

The Buffs, playing before a home town crowd of some 2,500 fans, earned their second victory in a rough and speedy contest that saw 16 penalties, including 11 in Calgary, noted and by officials.

FINNEY PACED BUFFS
Sid Finney paced the winners' attack with two goals and a similar number of assists. The other marks were by Bob Smith, Bruce McDonald and Cal Ogilvie.

The scene now shifts to Moose Jaw when the fourth game of the series is slated Wednesday.

Buff, displaying an aggressive, fighting brand of hockey, punched home two goals in the first session and, following a scoreless middle frame, added three more in the final for their margin of victory.

Buff, displaying an aggressive, fighting brand of hockey, punched home two goals in the first session and, following a scoreless middle frame, added three more in the final for their margin of victory.

In the opening session, play was lightning fast and saw-toothed from end to end of the rink as first one team and then the other threatened the goalkeepers. Finney finally broke away, feinted the defence out of position and beat Earl Becker cleanly.

McDonald then brought the count to 2-0 with Canada's man short. His goal came from a scramble.

LIGHTNING-FAST PLAY
Second period play also was lightning fast as both clubs traded on the steam. Barlett, Buff's number one, rose to great heights, especially when short-handed, to keep his cage clear.

The speed that featured the first two periods showed no sign of slackening in the third. Finney worked in close and let go a drive that found the mark to bring the count to 3-0.

McDonald brought the score to 4-0 with a shot from close in, and Ogilvie made it 5-0 after the end of the scoring.

NAME TEAMS FOR 5-Pin Tourney
Harry Crockett, Andy Ald and Shirley Holland are the only "new faces" on the Edmonton bowling tour, which will vie for honors in the western Canada Five Pin Bowling association's annual tournament in Saskatoon April 12-15.

Jack Edwards, ZEPHA chairman of tournaments and special events, announced the tentative local lineup for the popular pin derby last night.

Ben Huffelster, Crockett, Ald, Eddie Oger and Vern Mole will make up the men's singles contingent. Ladies' singles team will have John Johnson, Miss Holland, Gladys Wilson, Wanda Rutherford and Marie Sangster.

Hoffester, Ernie Ford, Crockett, Mole and Jim Rutherford will be the men's team, while Marie Sangster, Mary Hanning, Alice Johnson, Miss Holland and Marie Sangster will be the ladies' team.

Mixed team will be composed of Ford, Mole, Wilson, Marie Sangster, Mole, Jim Rutherford and Alice Rutherford.

Eskimos Seeking Reserve Strength

Stukus, Daigle Interview Golden Bear Stalwarts

Reserve strength and luck are going to be the keys to football success in the Western Conference this fall. At least, that is what Stukus version of how a championship club will be made.

And as Mr. Stukus and his Eskimo staff interviewed several members of the Varsity Golden Bears yesterday with one thing in mind to line up reserve strength for the fall.

Not that some of the Bears might not make the first string, mind you. But indications are that enough Canadian and American imports will be brought to Edmonton to mould a capable starting line-up. Since a club is only as strong as its reserve strength the ex-collegians can figure on a lot of hot starts.

Among those interviewed Monday by Stukus and Perry Daigle were Harry Hobbins, Ken Moore, Jim Macree, Alex Romanich, Bill Ingram, Jerry Krause, Ken Cox, Bud Miller, and Jack Perry. Principal discussion was in regard to summer employment which the club officials will arrange for all desired players.

Superstitions will commence the last week in April and continue throughout May. If the weather holds Stukus hopes to get moving during the Easter school holidays so that he can get a line on what high school talent is available.

There is a possibility that the Calgary films of the Grey Cup final last autumn will be shown to the Touchdown Club here on April 22. Stukus visited Calgary last week-end and was promised every assistance possible by the Stampede's president, Tom Brock.

Every assistance that is except on the field next fall.

BUG BOY BOOTS SIX STRAIGHT AT BOWIE

BOWIE, Md., April 5.—(AP)—Benny Civetello, 18-year-old apprentice jockey from Newark, Del., equaled a Maryland mile horse race track record yesterday by riding six straight winners in eight races at Bowie.

The famed Earle Sande first accomplished the feat at Havre De Grace in 1919.

Albert J. Adams of Baltimore rode eight consecutive winners and nine straight during a two-day period at the Marlboro, Md., half mile oval in 1930.

Civetello's string was one short of the United States record of seven winners in one day held jointly by Joe Sylvester (1930) and Herman Phillips (1916).

Trees, Unlike People Never Stop Growing

Dear Tawasi:

Wouldn't it be odd if we kept right on growing all our lives? What giants we would be!

But trees do that very thing. For a while they shoot up like bad weeds, always outgrowing their clothes. Then they settle down to a quiet life, satisfied with adding only one ring to their waistline every year.

Some trees, like the California Redwoods, are thousands of years old and don't look a day over 30, but if one was chopped down you could easily tell its age by counting the rings on the stump.

In fact, trees would live forever if it weren't for fire, storms, diseases and a woodchopper's axe. We value them so much that there are special doctors who do nothing but nurse sick trees back to health, and every redoubtable knight goes to prevent forest fires.

Of course, trees must be cut down because we use wood for many things from huge buildings with all their furniture, to tiny toothpicks, and a score of other products.

Changing clothes seems to be their chief pastime. For they are always putting on and taking off leaves, while fruit trees wear special dresses of blossoms for spring.

Trees are very friendly. They shade us from the sun and rain, and birds make homes in their branches, and even allow boys to climb their trunks, although this clips and scratches the bark.

Little Chief says that Fairies also live in trees for he has often heard them whispering when breezes blow through the leaves. If you are especially good and look very hard, maybe you can even see the Fairies as they play in the branches.

Sincerely,

Elaine Page

Birthday Greetings

Best wishes for Dwayne Olson, Rayway, Alberta, who will be 12 years old on April 7.

His hobby is collecting stamps and he has 800 of them. For pets, he and his brother have a pair of hamsters, which Dwayne says look like small globes without tails.

Dwayne Olson's late birthday wishes go to Gerald Harrington, Spirit River, Alberta, who was nine years old on March 17.

He has two calves, a dog and four chickens and likes to play with and they all have names, two. Of course, Gerald himself looks after the animals and helps with the chores.

Boundary Crossings By Air To Be Aided

MONTREAL, April 5.—(CP)—The formidable job of crossing an international boundary may soon be made easier for airline passengers.

The International Civil Aviation Association last week announced plans to cut down the tedious paperwork and line-up snafus by issuing one-day border flight permits to its 44 member countries.

A set of uniform rules governing returns, immigration and related regulations applied to international air transportation have been adopted by ICAO, subject to ratification of its members. The time saved may eventually reduce the cost of air travel and air fares.

If no objections are received from members by Aug. 1, the new regulations will go into effect next March.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Sammy Jay asked Peter Rabbit why he was so anxious to know about where Mr. Buzard had laid his eggs, Peter hesitated. Then he blurted out the whole story. He told Sammy how it had popped into his head that he never had seen the nest of Mr. Buzard and Mrs. Buzard, of how he had watched Mr. Buzard and finally of how Mr. Buzard had laid him that they hadn't a nest but that they had two eggs.

WHERE ARE THE EGGS?

"If they have got two eggs, where are they? I ask you that, Sammy Jay," concluded Peter. Sammy had listened with growing interest. It so happens that he never had given a thought to the affairs of Mr. Buzard and Mrs. Buzard, which was rather odd, as Sammy is usually interested in the affairs of everybody in his neighborhood. He scratched his top knot thoughtfully.

"I shall have to look into this," said he. "I'm sure I shall find it out." "If Mr. Buzard laid two eggs on his word of honor that he hasn't a nest, then he hasn't had a pair all there is to that. If he hasn't a nest and yet Mr. Buzard is sitting on two eggs, why those two eggs must be somewhere."

Peter nodded, sagely. "OF course," said he.

MAYBE ON GROUND

"And, if others have a nest, I need to lay my eggs on the ground, why shouldn't Mrs. Buzard?" concluded Sammy. "Why shouldn't she do as Mrs. Buzard does?" asked Peter. "Why shouldn't she?" asked Sammy. "You wouldn't have known anything about them if I hadn't told you." "True enough. Why shouldn't she?" asked Sammy. "I don't know anything about them," retorted Sammy. "That's why I am going to look for them," said he.

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(AP)—Burch, a tough young rooster that beat a flying pair by walking around and crowing after his head was cut off, may wind up by living longer than some of his poultry store playmates whose heads are still intact.

Mrs. Martina Green who selected the rooster Saturday and had its head cut off is regretting her selection. She intended it for Sunday dinner but when she tried to pick off the feathers the rooster suddenly stood up and made a weird noise.

She is feeding it milk with an eyedropper through a hole in the neck.

"There is no reason why the chicken shouldn't live for several weeks or months," said Frederick Sheldon, professor of zoology at the University of Southern California.

"There is nothing rare about this chicken's condition. Part of the medulla remains. That is the part of the brain that controls the vegetative processes, respiratory and circulatory functions."

Sheldon said the rooster suffers no pain because he has no sensation. All sensations arise in the cerebrum and cerebellum which just happened to be on the other side of the hatchet.

Mrs. Green says she'll see that Burch gets everything in the way of attention for the rest of his days.

CAN'T YOU PUSH IT WHEN YOU ARE MAD?

VANCOUVER, April 5.—(CP)—Who says they've gone about as far as they can go?

The latest gimmick, according to W. J. W. Reid of Hamilton, Ont., is an electric eye arrangement that does away with the toil of pushing elevator buttons. All you need to do now is to point at them, said Mr. Reid, who is here for the annual convention of the Dominion Professional Engineering Society of Canada.

The elevator girls, however, will still be on the job, because "there has to be somebody to answer questions."

"Most people feel a little vague when they get into elevators," Mr. Reid added.

Bread Grain Harvest Above 1935-39 Level

OTTAWA, April 5.—(CP)—The world bread grain harvest last year amounted to 8,100,000,000 bushels of wheat and rye compared with 7,300,000,000 the year before, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in its monthly review of the wheat situation. The figure was slightly higher than the 1935-39 average.

Reports on this year's United States winter wheat crop continue with 5,800,000,000 bushels compared with 1,900,000,000 bushels as against 1,800,000,000 the year before.

Last year's wheat production was slightly above the 1935-39 average, particularly wheat, were unduly optimistic in many countries and creases in acreage and yield in the U.S.

WINTER WHEAT DOWN

Indications were that average of winter wheat, seeded in the fall of 1948, would be somewhat less than a year ago.

But please, Sammy, come back and tell me if you find them," begged Peter. "I'll wait right here," replied Sammy, promising, and flew away.

Living Cost Index Slips in February

Downward Trend Extended By 3-10ths of a Point Drop

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 5.—(CP)—The official cost-of-living index slipped three-tenths of a point during February, extending a new downward trend which began in November and marking the third successive two-month drop in more than three years.

The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that the index declined from 139.1 to 138.2 between Feb. 1 and March 1, with lower food prices again providing the impetus for the drop.

SECOND MONTH IN ROW

It was the second month in a row that the index had dropped. It eased one-tenth of a point in January and over time a two-month decline has occurred since the fall of 1947. In that year, just before the index started a three-year fight to stratospheric heights, it dropped one-tenth in September and one-tenth in October.

The latest decline continued a trend started in November when the index plunged seven-tenths of a point from the all-time peak of 139.6 touched in October. It went up seven-tenths again in December, partly on seasonal price rises, but receded one-tenth in January.

At the March 1 reading of 138.2 the index, calculated on the basis that living costs in 1937-38 equalled 100, is four points below the October peak. It is still 8.4 points above March 1 last year and 57.9 per cent above the August, 1939, level.

MOSTLY IN FOODS

As in January the decline was prompted largely by the food group as price reductions in shortening, products, meats, butter and eggs sent the food index down from here.

on the TOWN

By J. D.

I'm not working for the magazine Empire on a commission basis but I feel obliged to recommend the lead article of the April issue to every married man.

Written by J. B. Rice, M.D., the article is entitled "She Gave Away With Murder." The point Dr. Rice makes is that men spoil their wives in this and age through a mistaken idea of chivalry. There has been a complete breakdown of male authority, writes the good doctor.

I suggested the Empire in the house. Then I waited for the Misses to go to bed before I started reading the editing article.

I literally glared in such masterful pronouncements as this:

"It has always been both natural and healthy for the human male to dominate his women. Have we real reason to believe the nature of the beast has changed during the past few generations?"

WONDERFUL READING

With sheer ecstasy I devoured such soul-strengthening material as this: "Zouave and animal trainers know that among the female the male dominates his mate for the most part without force. He seldom attacks the female, is the rare instance of the fight between the sexes, it is generally the female who is the aggressor. But when she does threaten to step out of bounds, he takes prompt and effective action to put her in her place."

Demerol! Tranquillizers! to alleviate the envy of those other mammals outside the cage who come to stare and admire—and very seldom to learn—on a pleasant Sunday afternoon.

"I am simply reveling in stuff like this!" A profane source of a former cabinet minister in the Conservative government of the late Viscount Bennett.

Hon. Earl Howe, P.C. member for Dufferin-Simcoe, and leader of the Ontario Conservative party 1906-18, also changed in an address to the West Edmonton Progressive Conservative Association that Communists were "planted in the most crucial places" all over Canada.

And modern wives are much like little children. They'll get away with murder if they can and modern husbands are allowing them to do just that, says Dr. Rice.

DEEDLY FEMALE

Husbands are in many cases signing their own death warrants, the writer contends. The ladies are becoming more irate day by day.

Has some thought-provoking figures to illustrate his argument. In the past three years, 20,000 women were arrested in the U.S. with more than 2,000 accused of murder.

And women are getting better at killing as they gain more experience. Writes Dr. Rice:

"While a few reactionaries still enjoy poison as a means of dealing with the men in their lives, quicker methods more in keeping with the times are being harder on the living room rug—becoming popular. An ever-increasing number of women are choosing pistols, knives, and brass bulletins as a means of shortening their displeasure."

GRAND SOLUTION

The average husband is pretty sure to raise a hairy cheer over Dr. Rice's proposed solution. He must again consider the responsibility for the guidance of their women and children. Civilization has given us knowledge but it has robbed us of the wisdom of the jungle. We must rediscover the art of dominating as the lion dominates the lioness. (Did you hear that despised Tarzan-like roar from my corner?)

"Will women react? Not a chance," asserts the confident Dr. Rice. Women instinctively know their own bright place in the scheme of things—and love it—despite the valiant fight they have waged for equality with men, he concludes.

TAKES COURAGE

Dr. Rice certainly has a lot of courage to write an article like that. I wonder if he's married.

As for me, I bid the magazine under the sofa at the bottom of a heap of old books. I'm perfectly content to postpone my own crusade on behalf of male supremacy until it has been tried out by bolder spirits. I'd like to be a lion but I feel a heck of a lot more like a mouse.

Rowe Scores U.K.-Canada Trade Plan

Great Britain was accused of "kidding Canada along until she got the goods," last night by a former cabinet minister in the Conservative government of the late Viscount Bennett.

Hon. Earl Howe, P.C. member for Dufferin-Simcoe, and leader of the Ontario Conservative party 1906-18, also changed in an address to the West Edmonton Progressive Conservative Association that Communists were "planted in the most crucial places" all over Canada.

ONE-YEAR CONTRACTS

Brushing aside the argument that trying difficulties were responsible for loss of trade contracts with the United Kingdom, Mr. Howe said he would like to know why Britain would enter into yearly contracts when it could have one-year contracts.

Despite Canada's billions of dollars in war gifts, and despite the Liberal government's attempted justification for selling agricultural products to England under world prices Britain now has only four agricultural contracts with Canada under which it is being traded, but with no contract was 35 force, he contended.

AGRICULTURE THREATENED

"Liberal state planning is threatening the security of agriculture," he declared.

After commenting on great possibilities of oil in Alberta, he said he would like to know why England sends 300 per cent, and the United States 75 per cent, of oil savings and pipe line to the Far East when it is badly needed in this province.

MINISTER DRAWS TRIBUTE

Mr. Howe paid personal tribute to Hon. James A. MacKinnon and said he hoped West Edmonton would find as good a Conservative to fill his place as he had been a Liberal.

Conservatives have a greater opportunity in an election now that they have had in years, he said.

Mr. Howe also spoke at a luncheon meeting in the King Edward hotel yesterday.

Conscription is known to have existed in the form of a national militia in the Middle Ages, but its first use in modern times was by Napoleon in 1796.

Four Month Jail Term Follows Cheque Count

Curley B. Pitukin of Edmonton yesterday entered guilty pleas to four charges of false pretences arising out of "dud" cheque transactions and was sentenced by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd to serve four months on each charge, sentences to run concurrently.

Pitukin attempted to obtain a motor car valued at $2,247.98 from Waterloo Motors Ltd., by means of a worthless cheque.

He also passed two worthless cheques at two city stores, and obtained $28.28 from P. A. Siroka with a cheque that came back from the bank marked NSF.

Total of $4,495.76 was involved in the two cheques passed at city stores.

Harry Hough, Edmonton, was remanded until April 13 for sentence on a false pretence charge.

He pleaded guilty to this charge at the January assizes.

Rehabilitation of Convicts Wins Support of Labor

TRUCK DEAL ENDS IN YEAR IN JAIL

Selling a truck for over $1,000 last July has resulted in a year of hard labor at Port Saskatchewan jail for Ray Brod, of no fixed address.

Pleading guilty in city court yesterday, to obtaining over $800 by means of false pretences, the young man admitted that a conditional sales contract covered the truck at the time of the sale. He owed more than $800 on it, but had intended to pay it back with the proceeds of the sale.

Then somehow, he said, the money just seemed to go before he had time to settle with the finance company.

He was arrested in Ontario.

Four LER Officers Take Army Course

Four officers of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment have been temporarily posted to Western Command headquarters here for a Command Staff Course.

The officers are Major E. W. Dyer, second in command of the Battalion, Capt. P. H. Darlington, officer commanding support company, Capt. G. G. V. affett, commanding headquarters company, and Capt. E. H. Pritchard, regimental quartermaster.

To provide an interesting program of activity for parade nights, officers, in support and headquarters companies are providing practical exercises.

Transport platoon is engaged in a vehicle course, and members are familiarizing themselves with traffic regulations and rules of the road.

Carrier platoon of support company will use radio-equipped vehicles and take practical training in the Whitehurst area. Capt. J. Hunter is in charge of the scheme.

TLC Hears Reports On Arbitrations Under Way

Strong support for the John Howard Society in its efforts to rehabilitate released convicts was expressed by Edmonton Trades and Labor Council at last night's regular meeting.

Council strongly condemned by resolution the practice of releasing men from provincial prisons in winter wearing only summer clothing with which they had been confined.

Executive-secretary Herbert G. Turner, who is labor representative on the John Howard Society executive board, said:

"There have been cases on record where men have been released from jails wearing only trousers, shirts and socks."

He said investigation has revealed 85 per cent of men crimes make good if given jobs after release.

He pleaded for support from trade unions in the placement of men in industry.

Vice-president Joseph Chertoff supported Mr. Turner, stating he was personally associated in this work.

Malcolm Allan, delegate from civic outposts and a member of the regional board of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

He cited several cases where persons had been deprived of insurance benefits because they refused to accept what was deemed "suitable" employment.

TAXI UNDECIDED
Mr. Turner reported on progress of negotiation, conciliation and arbitration proceedings in several unions.

He said the trades council was still without official word from the government as to Yellow Cab Company's decision on a recent arbitrator board award.

Union card drivers, members of International Local 814, voted last week to accept the Board award of a four-dollar weekly wage increase.

The executive secretary reported a favorable turn in negotiations between warehouse employees of Marshall Wells Alberta Ltd. and the company. The union is attempting to negotiate a general wage increase for warehouse employees.

Mr. Turner said it was somewhat possible an acceptable agreement would be reached.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Widow Bemoans Losing Friendship of Her Son

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow with a son 25 years old, to whom I am very much devoted.

Three years ago I became alarmed when he began getting serious over a girl I considered unworthy of him.

Thinking that it would break up the romance, I forbade the girl over to enter my house, but this only resulted in my boy leaving home and marrying her.

He gives me money if I need it, but he never comes to visit me and he has never brought his almost-month-old baby to see me. The boy's mother, the girl's mother and my Mother, but it doesn't say even if my Mother doesn't accept my wife.

Yet don't you think that it is my son's duty to give his mother the pleasure of visiting with him and his child?

Surely he could leave his wife for a few hours to come to see his mother, since she has devoted her life to him.

A LONELY MOTHER ANSWERS: A vast number of mothers believe that too have as the gift for selecting their children's mates and that one would have no more strings attached to the child than the mother's. But when a mother picks out for her son a girl who would take a dislike to her, she is sure to make a mistake.

Possible Mother might make a mistake in choosing a girl who is not as good as the mother. But if a mother picks out a girl who is not as good as the mother, she is sure to make a mistake. But if a mother picks out a girl who is not as good as the mother, she is sure to make a mistake.

Household Arts

By Alice Brown

There are many ways to make your home more comfortable and attractive. One of the best is to use a washable material for your curtains. This material is easy to clean and will last for many years. It is also very attractive and will add to the beauty of your home.

OVERLOOKS TRUISM

There are many things that we overlook in our daily lives. One of the most important is the fact that we are all part of a larger whole. We should always remember this and try to live in harmony with the world around us.

WASH THOSE WALLS!

YES... You can let them be finished with NEW, BETTER Monaseal

It's the only wall sealer and finish.

Screen Star

Horizontal 1/2 inch wide. Vertical 1/2 inch wide. Screen Star is a new type of screen that is easy to install and will last for many years. It is also very attractive and will add to the beauty of your home.

matrimony-made marriages that ended in the divorce court last week are rampant, indeed. If we do not stop this marriage is a pie in which Mother should never stick her thumb.

And that is a truism, dear lady, that you know full well. Until they get husbands and wives and then they belong to strangers. They are on their own, and it should be made with you.

You have made the great mistake of trying to keep your thirty-year-old son from marrying. A woman he loves and you have said undesirable things to her, and it has resulted in alienating him from you.

It is a great pity, for he leaves you alone and desolate. And I earnestly advise you to try to patch up some sort of reconciliation that will enable you, at least, to go to see the baby.

Three Trails

Three important trails of the historical interest cross the state of Idaho in an east-west direction: The Lo Lo trail, the Oregon trail, and the Millan road.

Declarer's Redouble Cinches This Bid

By William E. McKenney

Contract bridge has come a long way since it first entered tournament competition in 1929. It was played in New York for several years before that. Harold E. Vanderbilt brought the game over from Europe and introduced the type of scoring that is used today.

Two events were contested for in the national tournament held in Cleveland in 1930, the open pair event for the Canadian Club trophy and the knockout team-of-four event for the Vanderbilt Cup.

Since then the Vanderbilt Cup contest has been held in New York and is considered the blue ribbon event of bridge.

This year the secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup committee, Charles S. Lockridge, of New York City, has a number of the winning team. There are some interesting points in the bidding. Lockridge at South and his partner was Morrie Ellis. The first bid made by Ellis, in response to

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	1♥	Pass
2♥	Pass	2♠	Pass
3♥	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♥	Pass	4♠	Pass
5♥	Pass	5♠	Pass
